TO IMPROVE THE SUBURBS

Kaimuki Residents Organize For Work.

Improvement Association Asks For Good Roads.

The Waiālae Road's Condition is Subject of Sharp Comment.

An Improvement Association for Kaimuki, Palolo and Waiālae suburbs has been organized to work with the government in an effort to provide good roads in the three sections named, and to take steps to beautify the district. The association was formed yesterday afternoon in the Merchants' Association rooms, Young building, and begins work with the following officers:

President, A. F. Clark; vice-president, R. D. Mead; secretary, A. G. Bartlett; treasurer, Zeno K. Myers; Executive Board—Messrs. W. M. Minton, H. M. Wells and A. Gartenburg.

About a dozen residents and property owners of the three suburbs assembled in the rooms at 4 o'clock, and discussion of the association began with R. D. Mead in the chair and E. C. Brown as secretary, as temporary officers. In taking the chair, Mr. Mead said he knew personally that such a club as it was proposed to form as a permanent organization, would be of great assistance to the property owners. He said the government had apparently endeavored to fix up the Waiālae road, but its condition was now worse than ever. Telephone poles have been permitted to be run up the center of the road, and the road where once hard, was now soft. A protest made by the club to the government would probably have more effect than if it came from individuals.

The permanent officers of the club were then elected as above. President Clark, in accepting the office, said he would do everything possible to further the interests and objects of the club.

The by-laws will shortly be drafted by the officers and members of the Board and presented at a meeting of the club to be called again in a few days.

Mr. Myers said he was glad the step had been taken as it was something he had had in mind for some time. He felt the Association was due to the energy of Messrs. Gear and Minton. Mr. Myers predicted that the labors of the association would be successful and that these suburbs would not only be beautified but the work would cause people to investigate the place and the district would in time become one of the most desirable residence tracts in the city.

Mr. Minton stated that W. M. Giffard of the Board of Agriculture was interested in the movement, and intended to advise with the officers as to the variety of trees proposed for use along the streets. Mr. Minton stated also that Paul Isenberg was extremely interested, and had stated that as a member of the legislature he would do what he could to further the Association's work.

Mr. Wells said that improvements were sadly needed. The residents paid as much taxes, pro rata, as anybody else, and substantial improvements should be made by the government for their benefit. He referred especially to roads, and hoped to see some of the side streets macadamized.

Mr. Mead again called attention to the main thoroughfare connecting the suburbs with town. The government by "improving" it had ruined it. Loose dirt had been thrown in from the sides and it was now soft and dusty and in worse condition than before.

It was agreed by those at the meeting that the first object of the club should be to center its efforts upon obtaining improvements for the Waiālae road. Mr. Clark said that it was generally understood now that the work on the road "was a political job only," and not intended as a permanent improvement.

The Coptic sails for the Orient at noon today.

Friday another mail will go to the Coast on the O. & O. S. S. Gaelic.

SUPPORT CRAWFORD

Chinese Would Make Legislator Out of Him.

The committee appointed by the Chinese voters of the Territory to consult with the Republican district committee concerning the former's desire to have a representative in the next Legislature, reported last evening at a meeting called especially to hear the result.

The report, which was read by William Kwai Fong, was very favorable to the cause of the Chinese voters, and was accepted after a lengthy discussion. Ng Mon War rebelled against the idea of placing a candidate in the race during the coming campaign, claiming that the Chinese were not prepared to insure its nominee being elected.

After it was moved and seconded that a Chinese candidate be named, Ng Mon War jumped to his feet and announced himself as an aspirant for the honor. The house then called upon William Crawford, asking him whether he was willing to run for the legislature. Mr. Crawford gave his consent stating that he had already been assured of outside support. Thereupon ensued a friendly debate between the two aspirants, each modestly claiming the other to be the better qualified. Mon War finally put an end to the matter by withdrawing in favor of Crawford, who was thereupon unanimously endorsed as candidate for the lower House.

William Kwai Fong was also asked to run, but he declined. During the meeting the Republican platform and the nominee for Congress, Prince Kuhio, were heartily endorsed.

HAWAII AT THE WORLD'S FAIR

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 27, 1904.—Although Hawaii has had no regular exhibit at the great International Fair, she has had a part, and crowds of visitors have had an opportunity to see pictures of Honolulu, Maui and Hawaii, and to learn something of the delightful scenery, beautiful water falls, wonderful volcanoes, charming climate and valuable resources of this Paradise of the Pacific.

Rev. E. W. Thwing of Honolulu, has been visiting the Fair for the past two or three weeks. He had with him a very fine collection of about 100 Hawaiian lantern slides. Through the courtesy of Mr. Boykin, of the U. S. Interior Department, he has had the use of the lantern-picture room, in the Government building, and has given several lectures on Hawaii, to the large crowds who have gathered there.

After telling something of the position and importance of this one of the newest Territories of the United States, Mr. Thwing began by showing a beautiful view of Diamond Head and Waikiki beach. Then followed views of Honolulu, showing her schools and colleges, her progress and beautiful homes. Mr. Damon's school Mills Institute, for Chinese boys, appeared on the screen, showing the boys marching in uniform. Views of beautiful Iao valley, Maui, and the large sugar plantations were also shown. The lectures concluded with a trip to the world's largest active volcano, showing the rich Olia forests, fern trees, beautiful Volcano road, Volcano house, lava formations, and the burning lake of Kilauea.

Many questions were asked at the close and all seemed much interested in this delightful land of sunshine and rainbows, these Islands where there are no snakes, and where one can enjoy the surf and sea bathing, with cool summer breezes all the year. Many left the lecture room with a purpose to see this Island Paradise for themselves some day.

Dr. and Mrs. Whitney, have also enjoyed a pleasant week at the Fair. Mr. Thwing leaves St. Louis to return to Honolulu the last of August.

Senatorial Candidates.

J. M. Dowsett and E. Faxon Bishop are endorsed as candidates for the Senate by the Republican Club of the Second Precinct, Fourth district. John C. Lane has come out, under solicitation of friends, as a candidate for the Senate instead of for the House, to represent the Fifth district. E. R. Adams is still in the field to be the Fifth district nominee for the Senate.

Island Statutes In Washington Demand.

Revolutionary Claim Question is Up Again.

Amending the Organic Act of Hawaii—Personal Notes About Public Men.

(Mail Special to the Advertiser.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 3.—Further immigration legislation, especially the restriction thereof, has been broached considerably within the last week in connection with the Presidential campaign. Chairman Babcock of the Republican Congressional committee, who came over from New York for a day recently, sounded a distress call about the control of the next House. It is not believed the Republican control of the House is at all in danger, for the party securing the Presidency has always had control of the House elected that year, with the exception of the exceptional year of 1876 when many claim that Tilden, not Hayes, was entitled to the presidency. One of the reasons Mr. Babcock gave of the necessity for a Republican House for the first two years of the next administration was that the Republicans wanted to pass immigration legislation. The belief, in well informed quarters, is that Chairman Babcock utters his plaint so as to scare moneyed men to giving fat campaign contributions. But in other quarters the demand for immigration legislation is voiced. Some of the influential weeklies, published in New York, join in the cry. It may be quite forgotten, save by a few of those immediately interested, after the election but because of the vital importance of such matters in Hawaii should not be overlooked.

IMMIGRATION.

A year and more ago when the immigration laws were revised, it was generally announced that that concluded immigration legislation for a considerable time. The large transportation interests will be averse to the opening of the question again and it would be practically impossible to enact any important changes in the existing statutes at the coming, or short, session of Congress, which adjourns by constitutional limitation March 4 next. Should the subject be opened in the Fifty-ninth Congress (Continued on Page 4.)

HAWAIIAN DAILY WEATHER REPORTS ON MAINLAND

The Island Records are Exposed Conspicuously in Hotels and Other Public Places and Cause Much Favorable Comment.

Hawaiian weather reports are now being received daily in all the big cities of the mainland, and according to reports, are proving an important factor in attracting attention to the islands.

E. M. Boyd, secretary of the Hawaii Promotion Committee, who returned yesterday from the Coast, states that the daily reports of the weather in Hawaii will have an excellent effect upon travel. He says that in some hotels such as the St. Francis in San Francisco, the chief clerks are following a plan of which Mr. McMurray of that hotel was one of the pioneers, of keeping on his desk for the information of guests the record of the daily temperature of the leading cities of the world. Honolulu has now been included in this list.

On Wednesday of last week when the temperature in San Francisco had reached 100.2, Hawaiians there were accosted on the street and in hotels with the remark, "Well, you've brought your hot weather with you." One Honolulu weather report to bet a bottle

WANTED GHOSTS

Arnold-Dickson Bros. In Salt Lake City.

The Arnold-Dickson Brothers, fake mediums and grafters, who were arrested in Honolulu more than a year ago while conducting alleged spiritualistic seances in a house on Beretania street, and were convicted on a charge of obtaining money under false pretences, have got to show the Salt Lake, Utah, city council, ghosts or they won't get a license. The Arnold-Dickson Bros. were caught in their little fake game here by an Advertiser reporter and Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth, and in lieu of imprisonment were permitted to leave the city on condition that they should not return. Their recent experiences in Salt Lake City are told of in the Salt Lake Herald as follows:

The license committee of the city council last evening considered the petition of the Arnold-Dickson brothers to have the license on fortune-tellers, spiritualists, palmists, and other fakers reduced from $200 to $100 a year. The petitioners, who are spiritualists, claimed they do a legitimate business, and form a branch of the National Spiritualist society. Councilmen Thomas Hobday and A. J. Davis do not take any stock in spiritualism. They half-way promised the petitioners that if they would prove to them between now and the next meeting of the council that communication can be had with real alive-and-kicking ghosts, the license will be reduced. Councilman Hobday said he had been ushered out of many spiritualists' seances because the spirits refused to work in his presence. He says the Arnold-Dickson brothers would have to "show him," as he is from Missouri.

HAWAIIAN PINES HAVE CAUGHT ON

Hawaiian pineapples from the famous Wahiawa Colony on this island have been shipped to New York, Washington and New England cities with perfect success, and orders are filed which have more than taken up the available crop, for the pineapple season is about over.

Byron O. Clark, who began the movement to ship island pines to Eastern cities, is gratified over the success of the first season and believes that during the coming winter Hawaiian pineapples will have a great vogue all over the East. One lot of pineapples were shipped to the chief of the Pomological Bureau of the Department of Agriculture at Washington. The chief reports the pineapples having been received in excellent condition and he pronounces the quality as being almost unsurpassed.

In fact every shipment of pines has meant a return order. The Hotel St. Francis in San Francisco, receives a shipment by every steamer.

WHY CONSUL GENERAL McWADE WAS REMOVED

OYSTER BAY, Sept. 15.—Consul General McWade of Canton, has been removed from office because of irregularities in the issuance of Chinese certificates and excessive fees.

Robert M. McWade, as Consul at Canton, had the largest territory of any American consul. It contains a population of 86,000,000, all of the treaty ports being under his jurisdiction. The territory consists of the three provinces, Kwangtung, Kwangsi, and Yunnan. For several years has been in trouble with other American consuls in the Orient and charges and countercharges have been flying thick and fast to Washington. About everything out of the way that a consul could be charged with has been marked up to McWade by the other consuls. McWade is unpopular in the American community at Canton. Last year he distinguished himself by kicking the vice-consul out of his office.

His removal from the Canton consulate may be traced to the report that Herbert H. D. Pierce, third assistant Secretary of State made to the President on his return to Washington within the past few weeks, after having investigated all of the American consulates in the Orient and particularly the United States establishment at Canton.
